

ASAHI INTECC CO., LTD.

We are the company who committed to developing medical devices for highly motivated doctors. With solid technologies that have been cultivated through experience, and a passion for manufacturing that has driven us to take on challenges since our establishment, we continue to achieve our customers' dreams and contribute to society at large.

Also, while further enhancing existing business, we simultaneously and actively pursue new fields of endeavor in an effort to reach new levels in our corporate development. By combining our core competence technologies that we have accumulated with other technologies that we do not own, we would like to create more innovations that improve the QOL (Quality of Life) of patients all around the world.
